

DOMAINE JEAN-MICHEL DUPRÉ

AOC Beaujolais « Terre Noire » 2020

Single Vineyard - GPS 46.169167, 4.58333

Jean-Michel Dupré's 2020 AOC Beaujolais Terre Noire begins its hypnosis with a red garnet robe with dark purple tints. Its nose is full of teasing blackcurrant, blackberries, blueberries, and undergrowth notes. On the palate, it is rich, full, and defined with fine tannins that carry you through a bright, mineral finish. Enjoy with pork roast, pasta Bolognese, poultry or cheese.

ORIGIN

Beaujolais

APPELLATION

AOC Beaujolais

VINEYARD

+/- 65-year-old planted in 5.00 acres of sand with granitic rock and pebbles on top and silt and clay underground. South & South east exposure

Density: 4400 vines/acre

Altitude: 380m

Annual Production: 310 cases

BLEND

100% Gamay Noir

FARMING

Sustainably farmed

WINEMAKING

5 day maceration with whole clusters in gridded tanks

AGING

Aged for 5 months in concrete vats, light filtration.

TECHNICAL INFORMATION

13% Alc. |

FOOD PAIRING

Pork roast, pasta Bolognese, poultry and cheese.

Beaujolais' 2020 vintage is next in the series of wonderfully warm years. The winter and spring were incredibly mild with almost no hail. The summer led way to a worthy, clean harvest that has translated into the success of the vintage.

Jean-Michel maintains his vineyard with only sustainable farming practices. These 65 year old Gamay Noir vines sit at 380 meters in 5 acres of silt and clay soils with a top layer of granitic rock and pebbles that make up the lieu-dit 'Terre Noire'. There is a density of 4400 vines per acre with an annual production of 310 cases. After harvest, the grapes enter a 5 day maceration with whole clusters in gridded vats. After, it is aged for 5 months in concrete vats which followed by a light filtration.

Jean-Michel Dupré sits perched above the village of Beaujeu. He began with a farm and a vineyard of only 2 hectares left by his father. Over the years, he has converted the old farm buildings into his winery and hunted for plots of land throughout the region. He attributes his success to his intuition guiding him through each vintage, preserving each plot's magic.

ACCOLADES

This vintage has not yet been rated.

